Dear FMIA Supporter,

The FMIA is dedicated to continuing its mission of building more flood-resilient communities and this would not be possible without our generous members and sponsors. With your support, FMIA will be as resilient as the communities we aim to protect.

As we enter 2023 the FMIA is focused on expanding our reach and our impact. To do that, we need your support. There are several ways you can support the FMIA:

- First, become a Member! We have several easy ways to join, each with valuable benefits.
- Second, consider becoming a sponsor and provide valuable funding that will go right to the front lines of building FMIA.
- Lastly, help us spread the word! Share this letter or our web address (www.floodmitigationindustry.org) with your colleagues and encourage them to support the FMIA.

Your support will go directly towards increasing our advocacy efforts to speed up federal and state funding towards flood mitigation efforts. It will also support FMIA's participation at industry events where we aim to grow our membership and sponsorship.

We will also continue our efforts in working with communities to become more flood resilient, strengthen building codes and regulations, and to educate home and business owners on their options for reducing their risk of flooding. This is all just the beginning. We know in many areas there is much work to be done, but we are extremely dedicated and optimistic for a successful 2023 and beyond.

Your generous contributions and sponsorships help fund our collective mission and protect many from the devastation caused by flooding. The FMIA would like to thank you in advance for your sponsorship and continued support for our organization.

We look forward to a successful 2023, together.

Sincerely,

Roderick Scott
Chairman

About FMIA Members

FMIA Members are companies on the leading edge of protecting families and communities from the devastation caused by floods. Our members provide essential products and services related to the mitigation of flooding. In addition, our members are thought leaders in how our world can better prepare for the ever-increasing risk of flood.

FMIA exists to bring a cohesive voice to the growing flood mitigation industry. FMIA is well positioned to bring a powerful voice to our elected officials and the public on the growing need to address flood mitigation through sustainable efforts.
